

TRIANGLE

T O D A Y

Posted on June 10, 2016

Sneak peek: 'Feature Presentation'

Beth Mann For Triangle Today

Premiering this weekend at the Trotter Building is a new work from real.live.people.durham, a collaboration between Durham dance artists Anna Barker and Leah Wilks.

After the success of the debut “it’s not me its you,” Barker — along with Wilks — once again turned to crowd funding to finance their latest endeavor “Feature Presentation,” which opens tonight at 8 p.m.

The show explores themes about how we perform, both on an off stage. Tangling themselves in everything from exercise as egotistical performance to the tangled web of social media creating social comparisons, Barker and Wilks plumb serious depths. ArtsNow photographer Beth Mann got a sneak peek at the dress rehearsal Thursday night. “Feature Presentation” closes the 2015-2016 season of DIDA (Durham Independent Dance Artists).

“Feature Presentation”

June 10 to June 12

Trotter Building, 410 W Geer St. (located directly between Cocoa Cinnamon and Durham Crossfit)

Tickets: $10 advance, $15 at the door; buy here